TOM'S MARATHON CHALLENGE IN AID OF CANCER CHARITY

Report by Henry James

A KEEN runner from Skelmersdale is a third of the way through a gruelling marathon challenge to raise money in memory of family and friends lost to cancer.

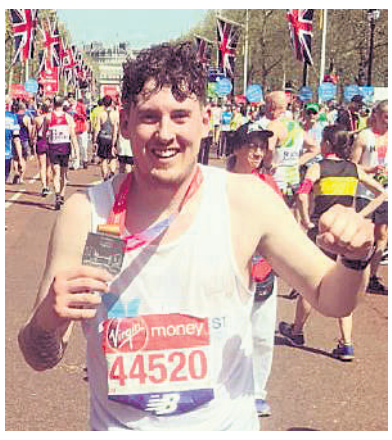
Tom McDermott, assemblies manager at Flowtech Fluidpower's purchasing and logistics centre in Pimbo Road, completed the London Marathon despite the crippling heat.

Now he is planning to follow up at the Rotary Shakespeare Marathon on Sunday, May 13 and the Liverpool Rock 'n' Roll Marathon on Sunday, May 20.

The 30-year-old has witnessed close friends and family suffer and sadly lose their fight against cancer.

And after applying every year for the last five years for the London event, he finally secured a place in the 40,000-plus line-up this year to pay tribute to former family and friends by raising funds for North West Cancer Research (NWCR).

The North West of England has some of the highest cancer incidence rates in the UK, with almost 45,000 people per year receiving a cancer diagnosis. And NWCR is the only independent cancer research charity fighting the toughest cancers in North West England and North Wales.



Tom McDermott finishes the London Marathon

The charity funds local university researchers who continually make life-saving discoveries about cancer and are able to make real and tangible progress in developing new ways to diagnose, treat and prevent cancer. While the NWCR charity is based in the North West, their approach is very collaborative, and any successful insight is shared with other cancer research and support organisations nationwide.

Tom completed the London race in three hours, 41 minutes and 18 seconds and although that was some 11 minutes outside his personal best, he was thrilled with this result given the demanding conditions on the day as temperatures soared.

He said: "The conditions were really harsh but the event organisers were superb, having made provision for the additional water and refreshments required by runners.

Smashed

"It was tough seeing people suffer with the heat. I could have completed the run in a quicker time but was sensible, keeping my goal in mind to make it to the finish line."

Thanks to valuable support from family, friends and colleagues, Tom smashed his fundraising target of £1,500, raising moe than £3,400 to date.

And he is aiming to boost that total further when he completes his triple challenge. He said: "Crossing the finish line and the support I received to reach the sponsorship target has been incredible, thank-you so much to everyone who's supported me and NWCR."

University rugby teams stage fundraising matches in memory of former coach

PAST and present rugby teams from Edge Hill University will play special matches in memory of a former and much-loved coach and to raise money for mental health charity, Mind Lancashire.

Matches will take place between both the present and old boys teams and the present and old girls teams, in honour of Paul Reid who passed away in March 2015.

Paul, from Newburgh, who was senior lecturer in professional development at the university, as well as rugby coach, was 48 years old when he died, following a struggle with mental health issues.

Organisers say they hope to raise £1,000 from the matches and a raffle.

All friends of the university rugby club, past and present, and family and friends of Paul are invited to the events.

These will commence at noon with a 15-minute memorial service at the Paul Reid Memorial Bench, located behind the rugby pitch and overlooking the sports facilities.

That will be followed at 1pm by Edge Hill University Women's Rugby Union vs Old Girls, then at 3pm by Edge Hill Beavers vs Old Boys.

Winners will be presented with their trophies at 5pm at the Edge Hill Students' Union, when the raffle winners will also be announced.

Raffle tickets are available through both the men's and women's Edge Hill University rugby union Facebook pages, or from any of the players.

Prizes include a one-night stay in the Lake District for two people, a signed Salford Red Devils Rugby League club rugby ball and a British and Irish Lions jersey signed by former tourist, John Bentley, as well as drinks and meals.

Lathom solar farm plan is submitted to borough council

Report by Henry James

NSG plan to build a solar installation at Lathom

PLANS to build a solar energy farm installation on 10 acres of land at Lathom have been submitted to West Lancs Council.

When first proposed earlier this year, the scheme was met with opposition from people who believe the site was used to bury horses that served in the First World War.

Lightsource BP and NSG propose to place the solar installation at Lord's Cottage, Hall Lane, which was part of Lancashire's Lathom Park estate, and a place where more than 200,000 horses were trained for service in the 1914-18 war.

Lightsource BP plans to fund, develop and operate a solar installation that will be hard-wired directly into NSG Group's electricity network.

In February, Paul Kenyon, local historian said: "If the horses used in the First World War are buried there, these proposals are a disgrace."

The planning application follows a community information event held at the NSG Technical Centre in January 2018 and a number of environmental assessments, which have helped shape the final designs and management plans.

This includes amendments to the layout to avoid impacts on identified archaeological features, finalised landscaping and habitat creation measures, and updated construction management plans, including ensuring construction traffic avoids Spa Lane.

Lightsource BP and NSG Group have said they, "appreciate the important heritage of Lathom House and the use of its grounds as a remount station during World War One.

"As part of the thorough assessment process heritage experts undertook a geophysical survey, which was reviewed in light of the reports regarding the possibility of a war horse burial site being present on the proposed land in February 2018. This found no evidence of horse burials within the proposed development site."

They have said that in response to concerns raised in the local community, a second geophysical survey was commissioned. The results of this confirmed evidence of barracks or stable blocks and an exercise track, but no subsurface earthworks consistent with a horse burial within the proposal site.

However local historian Dot Hawkes commented: "I would like to see the results of the survey. Who has done the reports and on whose behalf? Also what are the findings and where have they shared them?

"There are residents who back onto the proposed development who strongly object to it."

Lightsource BP have amended the layout and agreed a construction methodology with the county archaeologist to avoid impacts on these identified archaeological features.

The NSG Group has said that as part of their "drive to improve their sustainability credentials", the solar installation will help meet carbon reduction targets, saving an estimated 908 tonnes of carbon emissions each year or the equivalent of taking 193 family cars off the road.

The application has been validated and is available to view on the West Lancashire Borough Council website using the following reference number 2018/0409/FUL.

Nick Boyle, CEO at Lightsource BP, said: "We're delighted to have submitted a planning application alongside NSG to develop a solar installation to generate clean electricity for their European Technical Centre, in Lathom.

"We have been sharing plans for the site with the local community through public events and leaflets and have been encouraged by the largely positive response. The majority of the feedback has been supportive of our proposal, which would generate enough clean solar energy to meet 30% of the electricity needs of the Technical Centre, an important local employer."

The proposed solar installation has an output power capacity of 2.5MWp (Megawatts-Peak) – enough clean solar energy to power the equivalent of 720 homes. If approved this will provide approximately 30% of the centre's annual electricity demand. The majority of the proposed solar installation will be erected on 10 acres of land just to the south of the centre, with a smaller installation within the Technical Centre's grounds.

Skelmersdale company and The One Show combine in bid to tackle plastic pollution

WASTE management company Viridor, which has a base in Skelmersdale, and the BBC's The One Show, combined their resources in a bid to highlight plastic being found on the beaches and in the oceans.

The One Show team visited the company's specialist Plastics Recycling Facility at Rochester in Kent and its plastic reprocessing site at Skelmersdale to witness how plastic found on the beaches can be dealt with.

The programme's Lucy Siegle visited Viridor's Rochester plant to see the beach plastic sorted and baled. She commented: "It's amazing that this was lying on the beach not that long ago, causing a hazard and now we are dealing with it."

Viridor Rochester Unit manager Edward Sarasketa said: "That's the message. If you put the material into the recycling, it gets recycled. It's not on the beach."

Jez Blake, Viridor head of recycling assets (Polymers & Papers) showed Lucy how the plastic was sorted, cleaned and granulated at the company's Skelmersdale plant where The One Show reporter asked why quality was so important.

Jez said: "If we put it through these processes and take the time, there is absolutely no reason why this bottle can't become another bottle."

The project saw Surfers Against Sewage volunteers taking part in beach cleans to collect more than eight tonnes of beach plastic including fishing nets, plastic bottles and commercial marine material.

Working with The One Show production staff, Viridor deposited the eight tonnes of plastic in front of the programme's studios at Broadcasting House in London.

The beach plastic surrounded The One Show's presenters Matt Baker and Alex Jones on the programmes famous green sofas.

Joining them was Jez and Lucy with naturalist Chris Packham and, representing the British Plastics Federation, Lubna Edwards. Michael Gove, Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs joined the discussion from Westminster.

Lucy outlined her "plastic plan" which picked up many of the messages Viridor has consistently raised to increase recycling efforts. These include standardised local government collections, greater efforts towards reprocessing to achieve close loop recycling, innovation to ensure plastics were given a second life and a legislative framework which supported this.

Jez said that sophisticated facilities were required to sort and reprocess the large number of plastics currently in circulation and to reprocess them to ensure they were a sustainable and Circular Economy material.

Talking about measures the Government was to introduce Mr Gove agreed the hundreds of local government recycling schemes were "suboptimal" but said this was part of an effort to empower local government. He agreed they were confusing for the public and "wasteful". He added: "Change has got to come."

Public invited to health group meetings

MEMBERS of the public are invited to attend two forthcoming meetings of the NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG).

The group's Primary Care Commissioning Committee meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 8 from 1.30 to 3pm in the boardroom at Hilldale on the Ormskirk Hospital site in Wigan Road.

The agenda will be available on the CCG website (www.westlancashireccg.nhs.uk/) a week before the meeting.

Following the CCG's move to level three primary care co-commissioning in April 2017, the local health commissioners now have responsibility of commissioning primary care services locally in West Lancashire and lead on decisions of how funding is allocated.

Steve Gross, board lay member at NHS West Lancs CCG and chair of the new primary care committee, said: "The move to level three co-commissioning is a significant development for the CCG. We understand what issues face our local communities, and importantly what needs our local people have. These meetings are held in public so anyone can observe, further reflecting our commitment to be transparent about our plans and decisions."

The public are also welcome to the meeting of the CCG board at the same venue on Tuesday, May 22 starting at 10am.

Questions relating to items on the agenda can also be raised by visiting the governing body page of the CCG's website or by contacting the secretary to the board directly on 01695 588 144 by noon on Monday, May 21

Once again, the agenda will be published on the website one week before the meeting.

After the meeting, members of the public and other attendees can have an informal discussion with some board members.

Printed copies of the agenda are available on request for those without access to the Internet by calling 01695 588 000.

Further disruption in store for Northern Rail passengers

Union announces latest one-day strike in ongoing dispute over safety and role of guards

PASSENGERS on Northern Rail services, which operate on the Southport to Manchester line, are set to face further disruption following the announcement of another one-day strike.

Officials of the RMT union have confirmed that members will stage a further 24-hour stoppage on Wednesday, May 9 in the ongoing dispute over the role of guards on trains.

The announcement of this latest strike came as RMT members from across the country gathered outside Parliament on Wednesday, April 25 to mark the second anniversary of the dispute over guards and safety on Southern Rail.

RMT general secretary, Mick Cash, said: "The intransigence of private rail companies operating in England over the key issue of the guard guarantee means that we have no option but to announce further strike action in the separate disputes on Arriva Rail North, Greater Anglia and South Western Railway.

"We are drawing attention to the ludicrous situation that means we are able to reach agreements in Wales and Scotland on the guard guarantee but not on a raft of key franchises in England. If it's good enough for Wales and Scotland to put rail safety first then it should be good enough for the rest of Britain.

"We have long detected the dead hand of the Government interfering to stop us reaching negotiated settlements in the disputes. It's about time Chris Grayling stopped playing politics with passenger safety and started taking the issue seriously.

"RMT remains available for genuine and meaningful talks in each of these disputes."

Merseyrail is currently in talks with the RMT union over a similar dispute. Those talks are being supported by ACAS officers.

Meanwhile Northern maintain they have a commitment to introduce Driver Controlled Operation on parts of the Northern network.

"This is why we want to have meaningful talks with RMT to explore future staffing options on trains and stations.

"In some areas we may choose to staff more stations and in others, it could make sense to have more customer support on trains.

"These are the important, constructive discussions we want to have with RMT."

Excitement mounts as Men-Aces duo prepare for Mencap Euros

TWO members of the Skem Men-Aces disability football team, Haydn Pulford and Darryl Morris, who have been picked to represent Team GB in the Mencap Euros in Geneva, have been busy fundraising for the special trip.

Time is getting really close now with training weekends in Wales planned with the rest of the squad, and then the Euro Tournament in mid May.

And no sooner are they back, then they will be off again to Belfast for another three-day tournament.

Men-Aces manager, Carl Eaton, said: "All the Men-Aces are so excited and for many this will be a first time away from home. It's Darryl's first time abroad and on a plane, so he's getting really excited.

Haydn Pulford with Paul Mosquito, owner of Skem Taxis 50005

"We enjoyed a trip out to Sports Direct to look at goalie gloves and boots, and the squad were like kids in a sweet shop.

"I want to thank Paul Mosquito of Skem Express Taxis 50005 for helping us fund Haydn's goalie gloves. This is a smashing help towards our costs.

"We are looking for anyone out there that can help to give our two big trips a helping hand. We're still hoping to get boots and trainers for the lads as a well-done present.

"We would dearly love a second kit to take over to Belfast and we are also looking for anyone who can supply energy drinks and bars etc. for our trip. We plan to take our minibus over to Ireland.

"I would like to take this opportunity to say thank-you to our community for all their support. It means so much to us."

If anyone can help they can contact Carl on 07506 458 716.

Future of borough's two Poundworld stores uncertain

THE future of the two Poundworld stores in West Lancashire is uncertain amid speculation that the national chain could be set to close 100 of its 355 stores.

Poundworld is reported to have been hit by falling consumer confidence, rising overheads and the weaker pound.

Bosses at the discount firm are considering the move under an insolvency process called a Company Voluntary Arrangement (CVA), which could put up to 1,500 jobs at risk including positions at the stores at the Concourse shopping centre in Skelmersdale and The Hattersley Centre in Ormskirk.

Retail experts have said that Poundworld has struggled as a result of the weaker pound, rising overheads and a decrease in consumer confidence.

CVAs have been used more and more by businesses to enable them to shed loss-making stores which in turn reduces rents and can mean the firm does have to go into administration.

poundworld
more choice, more savings

There is speculation that Poundworld could close 100 of its 355 stores nationwide

Private equity firm, TPG Capital, which owns Poundworld, also controls the restaurant chain Prezzo which entered into a CVA earlier this year and announced that they are to close 94 branches.

The firm is also expected to seek rent cuts at many of their remaining stores.

A spokesperson for Poundworld declined to comment to the Champion on whether the firm planned to enter into a CVA.

'Boom Boom' steps up for first six-rounder

SKELMERSDALE boxer Colin 'Boom Boom' Day is getting ready for his first six-rounder.

He will be fighting at the Liverpool Auditorium, which is next to the Liverpool Echo Arena, on Saturday, May 12.

Colin is part of the undercard at the event, which sees fellow Skem battler, Steve Brogan top the bill as he fights for the Central Area lightweight title.

One of Colin's coaches, Dee Taggart, said: "Colin suffered a defeat last time out but myself and his other coach at the Rydal Gym, Rob Butler believe he won the fight clearly.

"It might have been a blessing though, because Colin has made changes and brought in Jay Tinker who is helping him make the weight and be professionally nourished for his first six-rounder.

"We can't believe how much he has improved and we're sure he's going to make a statement on May 12.

"Colin really appreciates all the support from Skelmersdale, and Liverpool and he intends to repay their faith as always with results in the ring"

Chance to re-trace War Horse Route

Historic walk re-launched to mark 100th anniversary of the end of First World War

ONE of the borough's most popular walks, the War Horse Route, is being re-launched to mark the 100th anniversary of the end of the First World War.

West Lancs Council is working with Lathom Chapel and the Aughton & Ormskirk University of the Third Age (U3A) group to organise a free guided walk of the route on bank holiday Monday, May 7.

Walkers will leave from Ormskirk railway station car park at 10am and on the way local historian Andrew Beeston from Aughton & Ormskirk U3A will tell the story of the war horses and the contribution they made.

The walk will also be assisted by the council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service.

The War Horse Route will mostly follow that taken by horses that had been brought from all over the world to Ormskirk station via Liverpool Docks. The horses were then walked through the streets of Ormskirk to the Remount Depot at Lathom Park. Later in the war a railway was built to transport horses directly from Liverpool Docks to the depot.

On the day of the guided walk there will be two options as follows:

1. Take the guided walk from Ormskirk to Lathom Chapel where refreshments can be enjoyed before the return following the outward route, a total distance of about five-and-a-half miles.

2. Take the guided walk from Ormskirk out to Lathom Chapel and stop for refreshments. Then continue by one of several routes e.g, through Lathom and Ruff Wood before returning to Ormskirk - distance between six and eight miles.

In addition, a War Horse Route walking leaflet has been reproduced by the council and will allow walkers to choose and follow a route themselves.

Copies will shortly be available from the council offices; the customer service point at the Concourse Shopping Centre, Skelmersdale; Ormskirk library and Southport Eco Centre. The leaflet will also be available to download from DiscoverOrmskirk.com.

Lathom Chapel

John Harrison, West Lancs Council's director of development and regeneration, said: "We are delighted to be re-launching the War Horse Route which is one of our borough's most popular walks.

"The council is pleased to be working with Lathom Chapel and Aughton & Ormskirk U3A to tell the fascinating history of the area's connection with the War Horses, combined within this wonderful guided walk."

Although there is no need to book a place before the day it would be helpful for organisers to know numbers. Anyone wishing to take part is asked to contact the council on 01695 712645 between 9am and 5pm to let organisers know.

Walkers should arrive 15 minutes before departure time and wear suitable footwear and clothing. Children under the age of 16 should be accompanied by an adult.

Car parking is available at Ormskirk station but people are encouraged to use public transport where possible.

Care home installs 'magic table' device aimed at enhancing dementia sufferers' quality of life

Report by Henry James

A CARE home in Up Holland is using an innovative device to help people with dementia.

The Tovertafel (Dutch for magic table) - an innovation from the Netherlands which is renowned for a cutting-edge approach to dementia care - has been installed by Orione Care at their Cardinal Heenan House home in Roby Mill.

The technology contains a series of games for people living with mid-to-late stage dementia and it has been designed to encourage instinctive participation, inviting engagement and stimulating a level of physical and social activity rarely seen in people living with dementia in the later stages of their journey.

Cardinal Heenan House is part of The Sons of Divine Providence (Orione Care) and specialises in caring for people with a diagnosis of dementia.

Staff at the home pride themselves on their achievements and pioneering commitment to dementia care and have achieved an Investors in People silver award.

The Tovertafel aims to create a fun, safe environment for all residents. The games are formulated with the intention to trigger a sense of reminiscence among players in order to encourage stimulation social integration, cognitively and physically. As light simulations, games are projected onto a table and include gardening, fishing and popping balloons.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper is an interested observer as residents of Cardinal Heenan House try out the 'magic table' device

Following the installation Kerry Ellison, manager at Cardinal Heenan House, said: "I am really pleased with the efforts made by families, friends and staff to fundraise for this magical piece of equipment. Seeing first-hand the joy on residents' faces is priceless."

John Ramsay, chief executive officer of Shift8* Limited, the company which brought the Tovertafel to the UK, said: "We are delighted that Cardinal Heenan House have installed the Tovertafel. As a care home, that pride themselves on dementia care, we are thrilled to further enhance the quality of life that residents enjoy there.

"It's been incredibly moving seeing the residents interact with the Tovertafel games and each other."

Skem manufacturer chosen for EC-funded 'scale-up' project

A SKELMERSDALE business is one of only 30 companies in the UK selected to participate in a 'scale-up' project led by the Enterprise Europe Network (EEN) and funded by the European Commission.

TrakRap, based at Gorsey Place, East Gillibrands, which manufactures retail-ready secondary packaging machinery, has been identified as a company with high growth potential by the EEN, the world's largest support network for small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) with international ambitions.

The EEN is active in more than 60 countries worldwide and brings together 3,000 experts from more than 600 member organisations - all renowned for their excellence in business support.

TrakRap was selected because of the growing interest in its patented 'cold wrap' packaging technology, which eliminates the need for traditional shrink wrap tunnels in food and fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) manufacturing and replaces them with a 100% recyclable stretch film that requires no heat to apply.

The elimination of heat from the production process reduces energy costs, as well as negating the need for expensive air cooling systems which would otherwise be required to regulate temperatures and maintain hygiene standards.

The TrakRap system's innovative technology reduces energy requirements by more than 90% and reduces the use of plastics by over 60% compared to current shrink-wrapping technologies, offering additional financial and environmental benefits to users.

Martin Leeming, CEO of TrakRap,

EEN's specialist advisors will work alongside the TrakRap team to target rapid growth across the food and beverage, pharmaceutical and FMCG markets.

Chief executive of TrakRap, Martin Leeming, said: "To be selected for this scheme by the EEN is a fantastic acknowledgement of the strength of our packaging system and the clear market need for innovative packaging solutions.

"We are already working with some of the biggest names in UK retail and manufacturing and, with the backing of EEN and the support of our partners, we're confident we will achieve our ambitious growth objectives."

Teenager sheds his locks for charity

IT was a case of 'hair today...gone for a good cause' for teenager Joshua Davies when he had a sponsored crop in aid of charity.

The 15-year-old from Skelmersdale bid farewell to his cherished curls at the Urban Hair Salon on High Street, raising £352 for Cancer Research UK.

And the Ormskirk School pupil's locks were not lost in vain as he donated them to the Little Princess Trust which makes wigs for people who have lost their hair during cancer treatment.

County council bid to ease fears over material left for recycling going to landfill

Report by Kenny Parker

The household waste recycling centre in Abbey Lane, Burscough, which the county council says no longer has a hard plastics bin.

LANCASHIRE County Council officials have sought to calm fears that the majority of material deposited for recycling in the county is in fact going to landfill.

Concerned readers contacted the Champion after a post on an online Burscough community forum accused the authority of lying about what happens to recyclable waste.

The post stated: "I have just been informed by one of the workers at the recycling centre that a majority of the items taken for recycling are sent to landfill sites at a cost of £300 per truck. The cardboard, paper and bottles, are recycled but the majority of everything else is mixed together, contaminated and goes to landfill, even though it could be recycled.

"Why are we paying councils money for recycling when they are lying to us?

"Landfill sites are destroying our environment. What kind of world are we leaving for the generations to come?"

However, the county council, which is responsible for the management of all household waste, has explained that while there is some truth in the claim, it only relates to hard plastics and is due to worldwide changes in the plastics market.

Steve Scott, head of waste management for Lancashire County Council, said: "I'd like to reassure people that the plastic which they separate as part of their doorstep waste collections is being recycled, and we also have facilities at our recycling sites for collecting and recycling good-quality plastic, such as plastic bottles.

"However we have recently removed the containers for separating hard plastics at our recycling centres as changes in the global market for recovered plastics mean we can't recycle it at the moment.

"China, which has been a huge importer of recovered plastics, has banned the import of certain recovered materials, including some plastics, with the effect that the UK market has seen a surge in plastic available to processors.

"The material we collect at our recycling centres as hard plastics is very low grade and processors simply don't want low-grade plastic at the moment.

"We are in discussions to establish whether they would be interested in some hard plastics if we can improve the quality of the material we separate.

"This would most likely mean a change in how we operate, with our staff having to be selective about the items separated.

"However, in the meantime we did not want to ask the public to separate material for recycling if we cannot be sure we can find a market for it."

Dancers from the Kelly Shirley School of Dance with their medals and trophies won at the Born to Perform National Championships in Manchester.

More glory for world champion dance school

Report by Kenny Parker

MEMBERS of a multi-award-winning West Lancs dance school are celebrating after claiming another triumph in a national competition and passing the audition stages of TV's Britain's Got Talent show.

The Kelly Shirley School of Dance, based on Ringtail Road, Burscough, already hold European and world championship titles and won the British Dance Cup in London last year.

Their latest success came in the Born to Perform National Championships in Manchester where they claimed the top places in eight categories - including scoring an unprecedented 100% in one - to be crowned overall champions.

Principal Kelly Tobin (nee Shirley) said: "We were just speechless. It's fantastic to showcase the level of talent in West Lancs, which is incredible. The children are absolutely delighted to be achieving all of these things."

Performing for the school were soloists, duets, trios and teams in categories including musical theatre, acrobatics, cabaret, contemporary dance, tap, and jazz.

While competing in London last year they were spotted by a producer from ITV who fast-tracked them on to the Britain's Got Talent programme.

Amazing

And broadcast last month, viewers saw the school wow the audience at the London Palladium with an acrobatics-packed dance based on the Wizard of Oz.

Judge Amanda Holden said of their routine: "I cannot see how you can improve on it"; while fellow judge David Walliams noted their professionalism and said: "I could not fault you."

And although Kelly has to remain tight-lipped about what happens next, all four judges - the others were Simon Cowell and Alesha Dixon - voted to progress the team to the next stage.

A former professional dancer herself, Kelly founded the school 15 years ago and the dancers, aged from six to 16, come from all over West Lancashire as well as Southport and Blackburn.

Although she is the only teacher, Kelly is ably assisted by an acrobatics coach and a vocal coach, who she says are amazing.

And despite their success she says they like to keep their feet on the ground and give performances for local causes, as well as competing in the big events.

"Although they are European and world champions, they are such lovely kids as well

"We always say it is amazing to have a talent but it's much more important to be a nice human being as well."

Veterans group urge community to support Armed Forces weekend

OFFICIALS of the Skelmersdale Veterans Association are urging peole in the borough to support the Armed Forces Weekend later this summer.

This will be their third event and it will be a day to salute the troops, the veterans and reservists.

New co-ordinator of the weekend is Steve Ryan, and his team includes Mike Cerrigan, Alan Moore, Tommy Morrison and Jimmy Matthews.

The show is scheduled for the weekend of July 14 and 15 at Blaguegate Playing Fields, Railway Road, Old Skelmersdale.

Anyone who wants a stall or more information on the show can contact Steve, Mike, or Alan Moore on svasec@outlook.com. They can also ring the chairman, Alan Lewis, on 07939 660048.

Alan Lewis said: "Events like this help support our troops, veterans, wounded, injured and sick veterans and their families.

"The association are also proudly getting behind our nation's forces on Saturday, June 30 to celebrate Armed Forces Day. It's a day for everyone to show their support for the men and women who make up the Armed Forces community - from currently serving troops and veterans, to service family and cadets.

"It puts the spotlight on these brave men and women, and it's a way of saying thank-you to them for their invaluable work and commitment to serving their country."

Alan Lewis (right) and Alan Moore at The Youth Zone in Wigan with young visitor to their display, Charlie Reeves

The Skelmersdale Veterans Association is leading the way with a range of different fundraising events and activities on and around Armed Forces Weekend. The aim of these events is to raise vital funds for the wounded, injured and sick veterans and their families.

Alan Lewis added: "Supporting our forces community is at the heart of what we do here at Skelmersdale Veterans Association, so it's only natural that we want to encourage the nation to get behind Armed Forces Weekend. It's an opportunity for us to show our brave men and women just how much we appreciate the sheer hard work and dedication they give every day in serving our country."

Meanwhile chairman Alan Lewis, secretary, Alan Moore and member, Steve Ryan were invited to the 1439 SQ Skelmersdale ATC squadron's recent annual dinner.

Alan Lewis and Alan Moore have also recently been to The Youth Zone in Wigan to display the association's memorabilia.

Police commissioner welcomes new chair of boards tasked with reducing reoffending

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw has welcomed the appointment of a new independent chair to oversee local boards looking at ways to reduce reoffending in the county.

Formerly a senior officer at Lancashire Constabulary and most recently Chief Constable in Cumbria, Jerry Graham will take up the role with the county's Reducing Reoffending Boards.

Four local boards, covering the north, east, south and west of the county, will play a key role in helping the commissioner fund projects to tackle crime and reoffending across Lancashire and making sure funding is used in a way which best addresses the local issues and priorities in their communities.

The £200k fund allows charities, organisations and partners to bid for projects that will work with offenders in their areas and help integrate them back into the community. This builds on the work that has already been done by the boards, which include representatives from partners including Lancashire Constabulary, local authorities and the regional CRC.

Mr Grunshaw said: "I am delighted to welcome Jerry, he brings with him an enormous amount of experience which I'm sure will help him hit the ground running, supporting and guiding the work of the local reoffending boards which operate across Lancashire.

"Policing alone cannot prevent people reoffending and this builds on the work that has already been undertaken by partners within Lancashire's local Reducing Reoffending Boards. Jerry and the boards will play an important part in identifying projects which, through funding that I continue to provide, can make a real difference across our communities.

Commissioner Clive Grunshaw welcomes Jerry Graham to his new role

"I know from seeing programmes that have received funding in the past how they can make a real difference and turn lives around. I'm looking forward to working with Jerry and the Local Reducing Reoffending Boards to continue this work and make sure the impact that this funding can have is reaching those who need it.

Jerry Graham, said: "I'm really pleased to take on this important role and I am looking forward to getting started, making a difference across Lancashire and working with other board members to ensure that the work we do links in with the commissioner's priorities."

And Lancashire's Assistant Chief Constable, Tim Jacques, added: "I'd like to congratulate Jerry on his new role. He brings a wealth of experience and I look forward to working closely with him in delivering results in this key area."

‘Beware of rogue traders and scams’

Warning follows increased reports of ‘doorstep’ crime

TRADING Standards officers at Lancashire County Council are warning residents to be beware of rogue traders, following an increase in reports of ‘doorstep crime’.

A total of 31 incidents reported in March, compared to 17 in February and 11 in January.

These included reports of rogue roofers in Chorley who cold-call offering to replace soffits and fascia boards and carry out repairs that are not needed.

Residents have also reported cold-callers in Accrington and Haslingden falsely claiming to carry out work on behalf of councils. They have been offering cavity wall insulation and claiming people should have received a letter from the council about the work when no such letters exist.

A similar scam has seen cold-callers trying to persuade people in South Ribble to switch energy suppliers.

County Councillor Albert Atkinson, deputy leader of Lancashire County Council, said: “Rogue traders tend to target people at this time of year when the weather is getting better and people are planning home improvements. They offer everything from roofing repairs to garden improvements and we’d urge everyone to beware.

“Trading Standards’ advice is not to agree to cold-callers offering to carry out property repairs. Always shop around and get quotes and don’t be rushed into making a decision. Remember if you agree to a contract in your home and have second thoughts, you have 14 days to cancel.

County Councillor Albert Atkinson

“Our Safe Trader website can help you find someone you can trust to carry out your home repair work.”

There have also been reports of a phone scam where people are being encouraged to sign up to a bogus telephone preference service and provide their bank details so a one-off payment, typically between £79 and £149, can be made.

People have also reported receiving emails asking them to update their bank details, because of billing problems with their Netflix account. This is a scam and people should ignore and delete the email.

Cllr. Atkinson added: “People can sign up to the Telephone Preference Service for free. Their communications service provider may also offer assistance. Be wary of unsolicited phone calls selling these services.

“The fake Netflix email is one of many email scams. If you receive an email you’re not expecting from a company, you should always check if the sender’s email address is correct. Check the email text for errors, as scam emails are often full of spelling mistakes.

“You should never follow a link in these emails. You should always visit a company’s official website or call their official customer service number if you're in any doubt that an email is legitimate.”

The county council’s Trading Standards team can be contacted via the Citizen’s Advice Consumer Helpline on 03454 04 05 06.

To keep up-to-date with the council’s latest consumer advice, visit the Scambuster Stan Facebook page.

Cuadrilla pledges to restore fracking site - finally!

Company to start work on returning land to green belt

Report by Kenny Parker

FRACKING company Cuadrilla has promised to restore a well site to green belt agricultural land - five-and-a-half years after it was originally required to do so.

Planning permission to drill for hydrocarbons at the site located within the Marsh Farm Fields/North Meols Biological Heritage Site, 3km west of Becconsall, was originally granted in 2010, on condition that the site should be restored within 18 months of work starting, which it did in 2011.

However, the company sought extensions to the restoration deadline, and after no shale gas was extracted, in 2015 further permission was granted for the retention of the well site for a period of three years to allow for the pressure monitoring of the Bowland shale reservoir followed by plugging and and restoration of the site.

The new restoration deadline was adjusted to August 2017 in March of that year but a further application in October 2017 to the county council's development and control committee to extend that until October 2018, was rejected.

Cuadrilla said it had hoped to restore the site last year but was prevented from doing so because a bird was found to be nesting near to the well.

Planned

The energy company now says: "Cuadrilla confirms that we will start work to plug the exploration well at our Becconsall site with cement and remove the wellhead. Once these works are complete, our site restoration programme will begin and the site will be restored to its original 'greenfield' status.

"We expect the well work to take approximately a month and the subsequent site restoration to take six to seven weeks in total, weather dependent.

"We had planned and mobilised to plug the well and restore the site in June 2017. However, it was not possible to do any works at the site as a little ringed plover bird was found to have nested just 12 metres from the well head. Undertaking works at the site would have disturbed or destroyed the nest contrary to the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981.

"We are therefore starting works as quickly as is feasible after the wintering bird season finished just a couple of weeks ago."

Maureen Mills, of Frack Free Lancashire, said: "This is indeed welcome news for the community, but it should be remembered that this work should have been completed by September 2012."

Aughton Parish Assembly date

AUGHTON'S annual Parish Assembly will be held on Monday, May 14, starting at 8.15pm in the Aughton Village Hall annexe on Winifred Lane.

Annual reports will be presented by local parish, borough and county councillors, while a representative of Lancashire Constabulary will report on the policing of Aughton.

The Tick Tock Community Choir performed in the Great Hall to entertain visitors to Scarisbrick Hall's first Heritage Day event.

Hall's Heritage Day attracts 400-plus visitors

Report by Kenny Parker

HUNDREDS of visitors took the opportunity to explore and enjoy a local landmark when Scarisbrick Hall opened its doors to the public for a Heritage Day event.

Built between 1830 and 1860 and designed by pioneering Victorian architect Augustus Pugin, the Gothic-style mansion was home to the Scarisbrick family for more than 700 years and today is the site of Scarisbrick Hall independent school.

Organised by the Scarisbrick Hall Trust and supported by a grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund, this was the first opportunity for the public to explore the building following major restoration work.

Naomi Cull, on behalf of Scarisbrick Hall Trust, said: "We had a fantastic time hosting Scarisbrick Hall's first-ever Heritage Day. More than 400 people came to visit this beautiful building on an equally beautiful day.

"A fantastic display by Ormskirk Historical Society explored the history and heritage of the local area and Lancashire Gardens Trust delivered fascinating tours of the gardens and grounds with more than 50 people attending each tour.

"The children's activities were a hit too, with a pirate treasure hunt, story-telling and a craft workshop inspired by local cartographer, Gerard Swarbrick.

"Gerard's maps and plates were very well received, as was the man himself. His charisma and stories won everyone over.

"It was also great to host the Tick Tock Community Choir who performed for us in the atmospheric Great Hall.

"We have received wonderful feedback from those who attended and we look forward to hosting more events like this in the future."

Restoration at the site is ongoing but has so far included work on the Great Hall's roof, a full restoration of the north wing, which accommodates the school's science department, and the 'north range' which houses classrooms and libraries.

The hall's Grade II listed parks and gardens have also been restored.

Champion LETTERS to the Editor

Clare House, 166 Lord Street, Southport PR9 0QA
tel 01704 392 400 email editor@champnews.com

Still waiting for leader's response to request for details about council plan to set up building company

CRAIG Sneddon (Letters. April 25) has had a problem trying to get an answer from Councillor Moran, the leader of West Lancs Borough Council.

He's not the only one.

I hoped that Cllr. Moran would respond to my letter in the Champion concerning the company which the council is setting up to promote house-building in the borough.

So far he hasn't said a word.

This is an important matter. It involves a large unknown sum of money which the council is putting up for this project and we have a right to know how much is at stake and how it will be managed.

This is why I have sent him a paper letter (emails are easily lost or deleted) under the Freedom of Information Act asking precise questions about his plans.

This means that he must provide full and accurate answers. So Craig might wish to try his luck using the same Act of Parliament.

Meanwhile, when I've received Cllr. Moran's response, I'll send the details to the Champion so that local citizens are well informed about the council's far-reaching commitments.

Maurice George, by email

...we want answers too

I WRITE in support of comments made by Gavin Rattray (article on Page 2) and Craig Sneddon (Letters) in the Champion of April 25.

Gavin wrote to Councillor Moran, leader of West Lancs Borough Council, regarding a probable solution to flooding problems on Furnival Drive in Burscough. I followed this with a supporting email of the proposal by Burscough Flood Group.

This was in December 2017, followed by further emails inviting a response. To date neither of us have received a reply!

Councillor Brian Bailey, Burscough Parish Council

This litter epidemic is spoiling our beautiful Burscough

I LIVE in Burscough and am concerned about the amount of litter that is strewn in our public areas and canal-side.

I make a point of picking up litter wherever I go and have invested in a litter-picker to use to clear the canal-side near to where I live on Heathfields.

I so wish that the schools and parents would educate their children not to drop litter on the walk to and from school.

If just a few people out for their walks would pick up just a few items of litter as they pass it and either recycle it at home or deposit where it should be in the bins.

You never know it could catch on to have some pride in our beautiful Burscough.

Sheila Thomas, by email

Have the council grass-cutters forgotten about Up Holland again?

ONCE again Up Holland is the forgotten village.

I have noticed all of Skelmersdale has had their communial grass cut, but in and around Up Holland the grass is about two-foot tall.

This is so annoying as I saw the men who cut the grass sitting in their van.

There was me thinking that they were just on a lunch break but no, it's still not been done.

What is going on? We pay our council tax but what for?

West Lancs please think about us in and around Up Holland, not just Skelmersdale, we have rights too.

Keith, Up Holland, by email

PICTURE of the week

Swamped by these pleas to donate clothing to charities

IT'S the same every year...

Up to now (April 24) I have received 12 so-called plastic charity bags in my letter box asking for donations of clothes and other items.

I don't know what they expect.

If I filled them with what I have I would be walking around in my birthday suit and looking to fill my room with new items!

I really can't comprehend how many clothes they think I have.

They are not the only ones who need clothing.

James, Aughton, by email

Jim's view on school discipline is just plain common sense

I WAS delighted to read the recent One Man and His Dog column where Jim Sharpe extolled the virtues of disciplining out-of-control youths in schools.

Mr Sharpe may not be 'PC' but I can assure you there are many of us who agree with his common sense views!

Those of us in the Common Sense Club would like to see more of these columns from Mr Sharpe.

Daniel, Ormskirk

Sunday trading laws enable shop workers to attend church on most important days in Christian calendar

RE: Mr Webster of Skelmersdale being surprised at finding the Concourse closed on Easter Sunday (Letters, April 11).

The law allowing larger stores to open on Sundays came into force in 1994 with the exception of Easter Sunday and Christmas Day if they fell on a Sunday.

This enables shop workers to attend church (this being the most important day in the Christian calendar) and have the time to celebrate with their families.

I can only assume that Mr Webster has not needed to shop on Easter Sunday for the previous 23 years.

M.W., Aughton

Computerised system can help improve safety in swimming pools

AS we approach summer with warmer weather, together with the long school holidays, many young people will ignore the warning not to cool off by swimming in rivers and reservoirs.

Some will get into difficulty, while others will lose their life.

It is better to visit your local swimming baths making sure there is a lifeguard on duty at all times.

However even a lifeguard cannot always see someone in trouble among a crowded and noisy pool. That is why some pools are fitted with Poseidon. It is computerised technology which constantly monitors the water both on top and underneath. If someone is motionless for 10 seconds an alert is sent to the lifeguard.

It is not a substitute for a lifeguard, or parental control, but an extra layer of safety.

When visiting any pool, both at home and abroad, ask what are the safety arrangements.

Bernard Powell, details supplied

Misuse of legal aid puts strain on public purse

IT was interesting to read Rosie Cooper backing the Law Society on legal aid.

Whilst I agree legal aid should be available to alleviate pressure for some individuals in their fight for justice, Rosie Cooper must not see that some people use legal aid putting pressure on both public services and the public purse.

I have been embroiled in the family law system where legal aid has been granted for five years simply because it was given to them free.

For others it can cost them thousands.

Public consultation launched on plans to change street lights maintenance

Proposals aimed at saving £2.1m over two years

LANCASHIRE County Council has launched a public consultation on proposals to change the way it maintains street lighting aimed at saving £2.1m over two years.

The council has been replacing old-style sodium lamps with LED lamps for a number of years. Around 103,000 of the county's 151,000 street lights have been upgraded and a further programme of investment means that almost all will be LEDs by 2021.

LED lights are expected to work reliably for around 20 years, lasting much longer than the traditional sodium lights and resulting in less need to check and fix them.

The council currently carries out routine inspections to street lights and illuminated signs and bollards once every fortnight between October and March, and once every month for the rest of the year. It also responds to reports from members of the public received over the phone, or via the online 'Report It!' tool.

However, the authority is proposing to stop carrying out night-time inspections, and move to making routine tests of street lights every 10 years, rather than every five years as at present. It is proposed to keep the current five-day target for responding to faults when reported.

County Councillor Keith Iddon

The consultation has started and will be ongoing until Sunday, June 17.

County Councillor Keith Iddon, Lancashire's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "Like many councils, we are facing an extremely challenging financial position, with a forecasted funding gap of £144m in 2021/22.

"We're committed to providing the best services we can, and particularly to protecting services for our most vulnerable people, which is why we're looking to save money by making services more efficient wherever possible.

"We're proposing to change the way we maintain street lights due to LED lamps being much more reliable than the traditional sodium type, responding to any faults reactively rather than carrying out regular night-time inspections.

"However, we want to make sure we've considered all the potential impacts, and give people the chance to tell us if they think this will affect them, before making a decision."

You can respond to the consultation by visiting the county council's website at www.lancashire.gov.uk/haveyoursay.

Gallery stages film exhibition with a difference

Magic movie moments recreated using building bricks!

THERE is a treat in store for film fans of all ages at an unusual exhibition being staged at the Chapel Gallery in Ormskirk until Saturday, July 7.

Brick Flicks is an exhibition of movie posters showing some of the most iconic and memorable film moments of all time - from The Matrix to Mary Poppins and Laurel & Hardy to the Life of Pi - in a way you will never have seen them before.

Recreated by well-known LEGO® bricks artist Warren Elsmore, each familiar scene has been carefully photographed to mimic the staging and lighting of the original movie - but the scenery, actors and actresses are recreated with the popular building blocks.

And there's a chance to exhibit your own building brick creations at the gallery in St Helens Road.

All kinds of building brick creations can be submitted for this competition, including those built from kits with instructions, but for a chance to win a £100 prize, you are invited to use your imagination to build your own weird and wonderful Brick Creation!

For details on how to enter visit http://chapelgallery.org.uk/exhibitions/.

The deadline for emailed submissions for the Brick Creations Competition is Monday, May 21, for delivery Saturday, May 26 and exhibition from Tuesday, May 29 until the end of the show on Saturday, July 7.

University's Festival of Ideas to explore Equalities theme

EDGE Hill University's forthcoming third Festival of Ideas will explore a theme of Equalities.

The festival, which launches at 6pm on Thursday, May 17 with a performance by the university's Big Band, will feature a series of talks, exhibitions and performances to engage academics, students and members of the public in conversations on the theme.

Alongside the university's Wonder Women programme, it will also mark the 100th anniversary of some women getting the vote, as well as responding to other current topics in society.

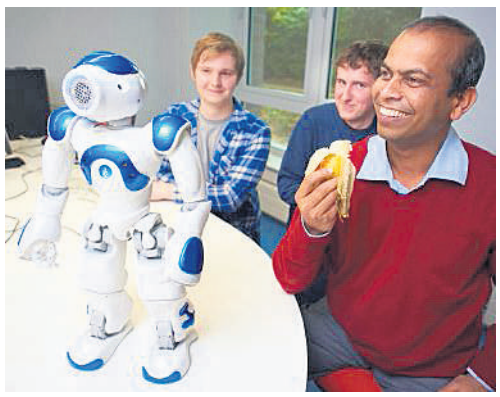
Among the topics to be discussed are animal agriculture and climate change; young people's voices in healthcare and as young offenders; health inequalities in society; the dark side of exercise nobody wants you to know; human-robot social interactions; autism; working class white male culture; refugees and social justice; suffragettes and modern feminism; and individual equalities.

A Vegan Weekend and a Film Festival will also run as part of the Festival of Ideas, with programmes to be announced soon, while a circus is also being organised for Saturday, May 19 although details are yet to be finalised.

The festival is programmed by Edge Hill's three research institutes, The Postgraduate Medical Institute (PGMI), The Institute for Public Policy and Professional Practice (I4P), and The Institute for Creative Enterprise.

Academics from the university will present their most current and innovative research to a public audience, in an accessible and interactive environment.

The festival also invites special guest speakers and performers to join the discussion and aims to open up inter-disciplinary debate about past injustices and what can be done to work together to formulate an equitable future society.



A seminar at the Festival of Ideas will provide a chance to interact with Robbie the robot

Pro vice-chancellor and Dean of Edge Hill's Faculty of Arts and Sciences, George Talbot, said: "The third annual Festival of Ideas will focus on the theme of Equalities which is very appropriate for the centenary of women's suffrage in this country, a cause particularly dear to this university's history.

"Our three research institutes have been working hard on assembling a really exciting programme which will mix serious debate with more lighthearted and family-friendly activities at the weekends. It provides an opportunity to showcase some of our research to a wider audience so that we may discuss findings and hear what people have to say about them.

"Edge Hill is an important resource for the local and regional community and we look forward to welcoming as many as possible across the threshold for this year's Festival of Ideas."

Broads still fascinate me even after more than half-a-century

BY the time you read this I will have returned from my first trip this year on my old river cruiser, Manxman.

So, in fact, I'm writing this just a couple of days before setting off with my 'crew', Tina and Cinders. And, as usual at this time of year, my greatest concern is that the old girl will start - for a start - and that the relatively ancient electrics will once again prove up to their task.

I suppose I'd bet that she will and they will too, but there is always that awful nagging doubt. After all, the poor old boat has been left in a draughty shed, in the water, for roughly six months.

Even so, I expect it to start more or less on the first attempt, despite having spent half a year in cold and very damp surroundings. You wouldn't be surprised if a car, left in a foot or so of water in a cold shed for the same time, simply wouldn't.

And don't forget, I hope for the same good results from all the lights in the boat, from the Webasto heater, the many pumps designed either to keep the water out or put (different) water in the sinks and shower.

The majority of these and their wiring are now well over 50 years of age. Truthfully, though, of course one or two items - like fuel pumps - have simply worn out, it is still the case that I have experienced the most trouble not from the main 50-plus fabric of Manxman but from the modern bits and bobs added since.

My late brother George was our 'chief engineer' who would give the boat a service every year and had at least a good idea of what had gone wrong and how to mend it - skills I, unfortunately, do not possess. Unhappily that means I have to pay someone who does to do the work; on the positive side though, it also means a general lack of swearing and mess.

Actually - and I'm touching wood as I write this - I have discovered that I am not (quite) so thick when it comes to things mechanical. Usually now I can tell a mechanic what has gone wrong, even if it is still beyond my ken how to fix it.

Electrics too I have some idea of - though there I do draw a line because George's 'bodge' jobs on various bit of the electrical system have been the cause of a good proportion of the woes I have suffered in the past few years.

Anyway, by now I should have returned from my cruise (just) and one thing I would be prepared to bet on is that I will have enjoyed myself and blown out a few cobwebs.

I can understand why some folk think I must be barmy to go on the same holiday several times each year. But I have loved the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads ever since my family started this tradition way back in 1961, four years before Manxman was built! It still fascinates me to see the changes with the seasons, and believe it or not, I am still discovering new places to visit which have been right under my nose all the time.

The reason we first hired a cruiser on the Broads was that George had acquired his first Collie dog, Kim, and wouldn't be parted from it. So a holiday abroad was out and though several hotels do admit dogs, it is hardly a good environment for a prolonged stay. Dad and mum were thinking caravan until mum spotted a newspaper advert for Broads holidays - and the rest, as they say, is history.

I even spent my honeymoon aboard a Broads cruiser and the spell of the Broads well outlasted my marriage. Yes, it is different now that I am on my own (if you discount my hairy chums) but since my maxim has long been 'if you can't get on with yourself, how can you expect others to get on with you?', I generally manage quite well.

Plus, of course, over the years I have made several friendships with local people and because Manxman is so distinctive in a sea of glass-fibre sameness, the boat itself is probably better known throughout Broadland than I am.

Anyway, back I am again now, until my next foray into the wilds of Norfolk and Suffolk, hopefully in June some time.

MP sponsors first reading of health bill

ROSIE Cooper joined 11 other MPs to present the first reading of the Health Impacts (Public Sector Duty) Bill to Parliament.

The bill aims to embed physical and mental health provision and consideration in all policies at all levels of local and national government and public authority.

The West Lancs MP said: "Embedding both physical and mental health now at the heart of all policies and workings at local and national government level is absolutely essential for the provision and protection of our future generations.

Evolving

"Lifestyles and habits are constantly evolving and we need to adapt to the world we live in, with more indoors, office-based and desk-based work than previous manufacturing, industrial and labouring jobs.

"This bill seeks to move the country forward and consider how best to care for and support our children and younger people as they progress through life in ever-changing circumstances."

Hannah has designs on success at prestigious show

A WEST LANCS-based tattoo artist whose customers travel from as far as Dubai has had her work recognised at a prestigious conference.

Hannah Allen, who runs Art House Tattoo in New Court Way, Ormskirk with partner Nik Brierley, won the award for best small colour tattoo at the North Lakes Tattoo Show.

Held annually in Carlisle, the event attracts tattoo artists from all over the UK, Europe and further afield.

Hannah, 29, said: "I'm very excited and overwhelmed to have won this award, especially at a convention where there were so many other artists that I respect."

And 30-year-old Nik, who taught her the trade, says her success is all the more creditable as she has only been practising the art for five years.

He said: "This is Hannah's first award and to receive it within five years of taking up tattooing is quite an achievement.

"She has worked incredibly hard developing her unique style with people travelling from as far as Dubai to get work from her.

"Although we undertake most types of tattooing we both focus on our individual styles with my work being more in the traditional heavier and bolder look, while Hannah's is much more feminine and illustrative, sometimes working exclusively by hand without machine, a technique known as hand poke."

Nursery rewarded for backing health and happiness scheme

AN Ormskirk nursery has been awarded a 'Kindness Bench' for its work promoting the National Day Nurseries Association's Healthy Body, Happy Me scheme.

Three of the nursery's young charges, Mason, Lucy and Isabel.

The month-long programme of events at Portico West End nursery in Grimshaw Lane was designed to help children in Early Years settings to celebrate health and happiness.

As part of the programme, children have enjoyed participating in the 'Kindness with the Clangers' project, which encourages them to be kind to their friends, family, and the environment. 'Daily Mile' sessions where the children skip, hop, jump and walk for a mile each day to a local primary school were also staged.

After monitoring the nursery's achievements on Twitter, The National Day Nurseries Association awarded it the special 'Kindness Bench' where children can sit to receive support from a friend or member of staff.

The nursery has also been taking part in Active April, an initiative by Action For Happiness that encourages children to move more, get outside, and stay active.

Manager, Amanda Wiley and deputy manager, Chloe Francis, have been delighted with the response from children and their families. They said: "Our children have really enjoyed the healthy lifestyle projects, which can also be done at home with family members."

Martin Mere to stage annual plastic duck race - at the double!

THEY'RE under starter's orders for a splashing time at WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre over the bank holiday weekend with the Burscough reserve staging its fifth annual plastic duck race on Monday, May 7.

And due to popular demand there will be two races this year, the first starting at noon and the second at 3pm.

Throughout April, children have been going along in droves to paint a plastic duck to enter into the popular event. But you can still buy a duck on the day for £2.50 and decorate it with felt tips with the winners receiving goodies from the Martin Mere shop.

Centre manager, Nick Brooks, said: "Last year nearly 400 ducks took part in the race with a great variety of colours and designs on show, so this year we have decided to put on two races.

"There was much drama in last year's event with one duck streaming into the lead, only to drift into a ditch, trapping five others and allowing another to come from behind and sail into an unassailable lead."

A number of other activities at the centre over the bank holiday include morning and afternoon pond-dipping sessions; canoe safaris and boat tours; the opportunity to build a den out of conifer; a chance to watch the family of otters feed; enjoying a splash and dash in the adventure play area that features water play; and a chance to hand feed birds from all over the world.

Packed crowds at a previous Martin Mere annual plastic duck race

The High Five netball team from Scarisbrick Hall School

School netball squad on a 'high' after winning through to county games finals

SPORTY pupils from Scarisbrick Hall School are on a 'high' after netting a place in the finals of the SPAR Lancashire School Games.

The school's High Five netball squad defeated rivals from four other West Lancs schools at Our Lady Queen of Peace Catholic Engineering College, Skelmersdale and will now represent the borough at the county finals to be held at Blackpool's Stanley Park on Tuesday, July 3.

There they will compete against teams from 14 other districts to be crowned county champions.

Now in its 12th year and organised by Active Lancashire, the SPAR Lancashire School Games is the biggest school games programme of its kind.

More than 3,500 children from schools across the county's 15 districts compete in 16 sports, including gymnastics, football, athletics, mixed cricket and touch rugby.

Edge Hill clinch hat-trick of wins in annual Varsity sports tournament

TEAM Edge Hill defeated their rivals from the University of Lancashire's Team UCLAN to claim their consecutive victory in their annual Varsity tournament clash.

Hundreds of students from the two universities competed across 22 different sports at the Ormskirk campus with both men's and women's teams taking part.

And contrary to the forecast, the weather stayed dry and the sun even made an appearance for the festival-style event watched by fellow students, staff, and members of the public.

Dan Bocharnikov, vice-president of activities at Edge Hill Students' Union said: "This year's Varsity was the biggest we've held at Edge Hill, and we really tried to create a family-friendly atmosphere with a sell-out BBQ, face painting and glitter, a photo booth and kit sale. Team UCLAN were great sports and the atmosphere across the campus was electric right up until the end of the day."

The final netball match saw a record turnout court-side, with the home team beating the visitors 74-30 to secure the win for Team Edge Hill and the Varsity trophy was adorned with green ribbons for the third year running.

Jenny Winrow, sports development officer at Edge Hill Sport, said: "It was a fantastic day all around. We would like to congratulate all the teams on their successes and we will look forward to them resuming training in the next academic year."

Members of 45th Ormskirk Scouts walked to raise money and awareness of those who have no access to clean water.

Scouts hold sponsored walk for Wateraid charity

MEMBERS of a local Scout group raised funds for WaterAid by taking part in a sponsored walk.

The 45th Ormskirk Scout Group walked around the local area from their head quarters at Burscough Methodist Church Hall in Orrell Lane, finishing at Burscough's Tesco store.

All the beavers, cubs and scouts were encouraged to take a turn at carrying a water container to experience what children their age have to do on a daily basis.

Marj Potter, group scout leader, said: "We have been learning about the global water crisis and everyone was shocked to learn that millions of children their age have to spend hours each day walking to collect water so dirty it could kill them."

Coffee morning fundraiser date

Countdown is on to the 10th annual Rainbow Ramble

A WHOLE spectrum of colourful characters are expected to line up for the 10th Rainbow Ramble on Saturday, May 12.

The annual event is held in aid of Rainbow House, the Mawdesley-based charity which offers rehabilitation, education and fun for children, young people and adults with neurological conditions and relies entirely on donations, grants and fundraising activities.

Members of the public are invited to participate in one of two walks, taking either a five-mile or 11-mile route through the West Lancashire countryside both starting at Bishop Rawstorne High School in Croston at 10am.

Fancy dress is encouraged and some keen entrants opt to run rather than ramble while many families are accompanied by their dogs.

Also taking part will be family members of those who attend the facility, including Stephen Hardman from Burscough whose son Christopher has been attending since he was two years old.

Christopher, now 14, suffers from an undiagnosed neuromuscular disease and is unable to move, speak or swallow without drugs normally prescribed to adults with Parkinson's disease.

Stephen said: "Rainbow House has had such a positive impact on Christopher's life and I hope dozens more will join us and sign up for the Rainbow Ramble to support this fantastic charity which makes such a difference to the lives of so many children and young people."

Registration fee for the event is £15 for adults, £5 for children under 16 and free for children in pushchairs and wheelchairs.

All participants are encouraged to raise sponsorship and receive a pack including a t-shirt, sponsorship forms and training tips. To enter ring Rainbow House on 01704 823276; go online at www.thelegacy-rainbowhouse.com or email fundraising@thelegacy-rainbowhouse.com

You can also contact Rainbow House if you would like to sponsor one of the participants.

The event will have marshalls in attendance along the route and first aid cover will be provided by North West Event Medical Solutions.

Chief executive of Rainbow House, Ben Blackman, said: "The response to the annual ramble is always fantastic and we are so grateful to the businesses and numerous people who provide support. There are too many to name them individually but we thank each and every one who work so hard to make this event possible and supports us with food, drinks, gifts and their time."

Pub's sponsored bike ride raised £4,500 for Cancer Research

CUSTOMERS and staff at a Burscough pub raised more than £4,500 for Cancer Research with their latest sponsored bike ride and associated fundraisers.

Regulars at the Hop Vine in Liverpool Road North have been staging their annual 17-mile ride taking in other local hostelries, including the Legh Arms at Mere Brow, the Farmers Arms and Stanley Club in Burscough and The Ship Inn at Lathom, for the past seven years.

This year's total, which was boosted by collections at the bar, tea parties and a golf day, will go specifically towards research into breast cancer. And it brings the grand total raised over the seven years to £21,000.

Event organiser, Graham Symms, said that 92 people signed up for the ride - although not travelling at the same time - and added: "I am overwhelmed by the generosity that was shown."

The next sponsored bike ride event, organised in conjunction with local police, will be held on Saturday, July 21. To take part contact Graham on 07918 858 082.

Prize time for shoppers at the Concourse...

DURING the past few months, the Concourse Shopping Centre has held a number of events and competitions to help shoppers celebrate special dates on the calendar such as Valentines' Day, Mothers' Day and Easter with the opportunity to win super prizes.

In February, the Concourse launched their #UnlockParis campaign in conjunction with Wish FM.

This gave shoppers the opportunity to win a three-night trip for two to Paris, courtesy of Thomas Cook Skelmersdale, simply by guessing the number of padlocks contained in a secure box.

More than 500 people took part and the lucky winner was Elaine O'Neill who correctly guessed there were 73 padlocks to bag this top prize.

Madalena Correia won the Mothers' Day Facebook competition held at the centre.

To be in with a chance of scooping this prize, shoppers were encouraged to like and share a post which promoted the competition, as well as the traders who had taken part.

Rewarding

Meanwhile, at Easter, the Concourse gave shoppers the chance to win £100 worth of shopping vouchers.

On Good Friday and Easter Saturday, the centre hosted the Wish FM prize grabber machine, which saw participants enter the inflatable machine hoping to 'grab' the elusive gold ticket.

Mary Smith from Skelmersdale was crowned the winner on Good Friday and Claire Wilkinson from Orrell claimed victory on Easter Saturday.

But there were no losers in this game as each person who took part received a chocolate bunny, and with free face painting on site it was a fun time for kids and grown-ups alike.

Anne Peters, interim retail marketing manager at the Concourse, said: "It's such a rewarding experience running competitions and putting on events here at the Concourse.

"There's no better feeling than seeing happy faces around the centre, enjoying the activities we are hosting. They are primarily here for the fun factor, but that's not to say their eyes aren't on the prize.

"And with the prizes we offer, we're always looking to benefit the traders within the centre, as well as excite our shoppers."

Elaine O'Neill, winner of the #UnlockParis competition, picking up her prize from manager Andy Rose and two of the team from Thomas Cook Skelmersdale

SKELMERSDALE SLIMMERS SET TO SPRING CLEAN FOR A NEW SUMMER WARDROBE

Slimmers in Skelmersdale are celebrating losing weight by donating their now too-big clothes to charity.

As part of a national campaign, members of the local Slimmng World groups are being invited to donate the clothes, shoes, bags and accessories they no longer need since losing weight to a local good cause.

So confident in the fact they'll never need their over-sized clothes again, the kind-hearted slimmers, are donating their big clothes to Evermore hub in Digmoor.

The Big Slimming World Clothes Throw is taking place in all 18,000 Slimming World groups across the UK and Ireland between 6-19th May. Last year the campaign raised £3.3million for CRUK.

Local weight-loss Consultant Jackie Whewell, says the annual Big Slimming World Clothes Throw is one of her favourite events in the calendar. "We've held a Big Slimming World Clothes Throw event for 4 years now, and this year I know it's going to be even bigger and better.

It's such a liberating feeling having the confidence to bag up clothes you'll never fit into again, all while raising money for an extremely important cause. My members can't wait to make room for a new summer wardrobe by taking part – I know the atmosphere in group will be electric when we bring all the bags together! When we meet each week we laugh together, share challenges and tips for overcoming them, celebrate success and swap inspiration, tips and recipes. We really are one big family and I will be so proud to see them say goodbye to those larger sizes and set targets for enjoying a healthier holiday season feeling absolutely fantastic."

Local slimmer, Nick Powell has lost 2st 8lbs since joining his group in January and can't wait to take part. He says: "I've lost 6" off my waist and I've got 2 bags to donate. Losing weight has done wonders for me, and knowing I've almost reversed my diabetes and reduced my chances of getting a range of health issues feels great.

"The best thing is I don't feel like I've had to overhaul my life to lose weight. At Slimming World I don't have to give anything up and I can still enjoy all my favourite meals with my family, we just prepare them differently. By making small changes to the way I shop, cook and eat, the pounds have dropped off and I feel full of energy –

"I never miss my weekly group to get a good dose of support and inspiration from my friends at Slimming World too. Together we can do great things and that's why I'm so excited to bag up my old clothes and see how much we can raise. At my heaviest shopping for clothes was always something I dreaded. There's no going back to the old me, so I definitely won't need my big sizes again!"

Anyone who would like to take part in the Big Slimming World Clothes Throw or find out more about Slimming World is very welcome to pop along to their local group: details in the adjoining advertisement.

Russian pianist playing in Parbold

PARBOLD Douglas Music is delighted to present international artist: pianist, Sofya Gulyak performing in the Auditorium in the Village Hall on Saturday, May 12 at 7.45pm.

Sofya, who is making her first visit to Parbold, was born in Russia and is a serial prize-winner.

She has won first prize in international piano competitions in the United States, Helsinki, Copenhagen, San Marino, South Korea and Paris.

In 2009 Sofya was the first-ever female winner of the Leeds International Piano Competition.

She started her studies in the music college of her home city, Kazan, on the Volga river but now she travels the world for recitals in all the great concert venues, and as soloist with orchestras from Manchester to Shanghai, Liverpool to Oslo, and Leipzig to Morocco.

Her recital programmes are reviewed in superlatives, and her concerto performances are lauded in glowing terms by the world's music press.

Her playing has been broadcast on radio and TV in Russia, Poland, France, Italy, Germany, USA, Finland, Denmark, Serbia, New Zealand, Brazil, Mexico, and the United Kingdom (BBC 3 and BBC 4).

Sofya Gulyak

Her programme offers a variety of music from the virtuoso transcriptions of Busoni's famous version of Bach's Chaconneor Franz Liszt's versions of Isolde's 'Liebestod' by Richard Wagner, to Frédéric Chopin's Grande Polonaise Brilliante, or variations by César Franck and Maurice Ravel's La Valse.

It is a dazzling powerhouse programme from Sofya who has been named 'La Grande Dame du piano' by La Scene.

Epstein's audience 'lap up' Lennon's Banjo

Review by Ron Ellis

Lennon's Banjo by Rob Fennah
Epstein Theatre, Liverpool

THE first instrument John Lennon learnt to play was his mother's banjo. As Lennon's piano was sold at Sotherby's in 2000 for £1.5m, imagine what that banjo would be worth today. If only it could be found.

This was the idea behind a novel called Julia's Banjo, by Rob Fennah and Helen Jones, and which Rob has now transformed into a comedy stage play whereby a Beatle Tour guide, Barry (Eric Potts), who is obsessed with The Fab Four, discovers a clue that sets him off on a search for the instrument, aided by two mates from a Beatles souvenir shop played by Mark Moraghan and Jake Abrahams.

Somehow, news of this reaches Travis (Danny O'Brien) a wheeler-dealer in Texas who hot-foots it across the Atlantic to join in the chase, accompanied by his glamorous wife, Cheryl (Stephanie Dooley), and pursued by Texan gangsters (Roy Carruthers and Alan Stocks). An unlikely scenario to say the least and hardly menacing.

The action moves around Sixties hotspots like The Cavern, The Jacaranda and The Casbah Club, all played against a distinctive collage of posters depicting the era in a colourful backdrop designed by Richard Foxton.

At the opening night, original (and best) Beatles drummer, Pete Best, made a personal appearance as himself although he seemed like he would have been happier with his drums in front of him.

The cast was completed by Liverpool favourite, Lynn Francis, as Brenda, who secretly fancies nerdy Barry (though God knows why) and is upset at Cheryl's attempts to seduce him into revealing his progress.

This was a play that could have gone two ways, played as a true comedy or as a thriller, but somehow it falls between two stools. Not enough funny one-liners and comic situations to get you laughing out loud, yet not scary or gripping enough to keep you on the edge of your seat.

Nonetheless, there is a good basic plot here, it's just a matter of finding the right approach. Maybe, bearing in mind the subject, it could be turned into a musical.

Obviously success in it's native Liverpool is assured, especially with a cast of popular local actors. The audience on the opening night certainly lapped it up, the humour between the Scousers bringing the most laughs, while The Beatles connection alone brings instant publicity.

Danny O'Brien and Stephanie Dooley in Lennon's Banjo. Picture by Anthony Robling

But.... does mention of The Beatles half a century after their heyday guarantee interest from younger generations anymore? Especially ones outside Liverpool. After all, Sixties' rock'n'rollers had no time for Bing Crosby or Fred Astaire from a similarly distant era.

Crosby's Rob Ferrah, meanwhile, having been a member of hit bands Buster and Alternative Radio, pursues his stage-writing career with The Water of Liverpool, a follow-up to his successful musical of Twopence to Cross The Mersey, due at the Epstein this coming October.

Star rating: 5 out of 10. Good story but needs a different approach.

Show celebrates successful pop duo

THE Carpenters Story which promises a night of beautiful melodies comes back to Southport Theatre this spring.

This concert-style production celebrates the music of one of the most successful pop duos in music history, Richard and Karen Carpenter.

First created back in 1986 by its founder Phil Aldridge, The Carpenters Story was one of the UK's very first tribute-style shows of its kind. Now, more than three decades later, the show has stood the test of time, having entertained sell-out audiences throughout Europe and the rest of the world.

International star Claire Furley remains unsurpassed in her uncanny representation of Karen Carpenter. Her vocal harmonies, combined with video projection and lavish musical arrangements, will take you on a journey through the uniqueness that truly was The Carpenters.

The show features all the timeless classics including; Superstar, (They Long To Be) Close To You, We've Only Just Begun, Yesterday Once More, Top of the World, Please Mr Postman, Rainy Days and Mondays, and many more!

- The Carpenters Story is at Southport Theatre on Sunday, May 27, 7.30pm. For more information or to book tickets call 0844 871 3021 or visit www.atgtickets.com/southport

You don't need to fund a motoring tycoon to fire his cars into space

You might trust Tesla tech - not the other drivers passing you nearby

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

TESLAS can do all sorts of completely bonkers – and therefore, entirely brilliant – things that you didn't know you needed or wanted from your next car.

There is no point, for instance, in it having something called a Ludicrous Mode that enables you to outdrag a Lamborghini Aventador from the traffic lights. Nor do you need an infotainment system that lets you pretend you're Roger Moore, circa 1977, outrunning the baddies in an early Esprit, or a remote-control system that lets you move the car out of awkwardly tight parking. And you definitely don't need your next purchase to fund a motoring tycoon who fires his own cars into space for fun. But this is Tesla, so you can do all of these things, and more.

But one thing you definitely can't do – at least in the eyes of Hertfordshire Constabulary, anyway – is to show off its impossibly smug autonomous driving mode. You might have seen in the news that Bhavesh Patel has been banned from driving, because he decided to let his Model S have a go. Not on a private test track, but on the M1, while he was in the passenger seat.

The last thing I'd want to do is condone Mr Patel driving like a berk (or not at all), but what the incident does prove is just how much of a tightrope Britain's powers-that-be and the world's motoring giants are treading when it comes to autonomous driving. Tesla's tech, weirdly, I think I'd have trusted with a not terribly interesting stretch of motorway, but would I have had an ounce of faith in the chap in the rented Insignia inevitably 200 yards up front in the middle lane? Not a chance.

I've said before that while I love driving, and will be a broken man if my right to enjoy it at the helm of an early MX-5 on a Welsh mountain road is ever taken away from me, there are plenty of occasions when in a distant future I'd happily retreat to a Tesla's rear quarters.

My current commute, for instance, is one long, straight flat road that has no overtaking opportunities and a lorry on it that's inevitably doing 39mph – that's an hour a day where I could be learning Italian or writing poetry while Elon Musk's electronics strut their stuff.

I know that I wrote in this very column 18 months ago about a self-driving Tesla that was involved in an accident, but technology improves and gets ever safer. It sounds wonderful – but Britain would have to go autonomous in one huge, legally-binding lunge if it was to ever embrace it properly.

Until then the road will be an unhappy mix of diehard traditionalists (that'd be me, then), the vast majority of people who'd love to have their cars do all the hard work but aren't legally allowed to, and the dimwits in between, who are too busy cutting people up in their rented Insignias to care.

Until then I'll happily enjoy the Model S' other mad features. Any Aventador owners fancy a race, then?

Skem end season with draw against ten-man Clitheroe

Clitheroe 2
Skelmersdale United 2

SKELMERSDALE United finished second to bottom in the Evo-Stik Division One North after picking up a draw in their last game of the season.

It was Skelmersdale who took the lead. Bakkor controlled well and slipped the ball to Liam Davies, the older brother of Everton star Tom, who put a shot across home goalkeeper Chris Thompson into the far corner.

There was a talking point in the 37th minute when the hosts were reduced to ten men.

Clitheroe midfielder Joe Mitchell and Skelmersdale left-back Jack Fleming clashed before the defender went down holding his face. Referee Matt Scholes brandished his red card at Mitchell.

The incident may well broken Skelmersdale's concentration as two minutes later Clitheroe equalised, a loose back pass went straight to Dent and from an angle he steered the ball past Cheetham from about ten yards to make it 1-1.

Clitheroe came out sharply in the second half and they took the lead in the 59th minute.

Willoughby got into space on the right and ran at Fleming, he put in a cross to the near-post, where Dent met the ball with a diving header to make it 2-1.

Skelmersdale then had more of the play, Thompson made a double save and Bakkor put a shot wide.

15 minutes from the end that changed, Bakkor trapped the ball down around 30 yards from goal on the left, he cut across the pitch then spying the chance unleashed a curling powerful shot straight into the far top corner to make it 2-2.

Linnets climb out of drop zone after vital derby win

Bootle 1
Burscough 2

BURSCOUGH clinched a huge three points to climb out of the relegation zone and give them a fighting chance of survival, *writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

On Monday evening Burscough travelled to play fifth placed Bootle, probably more in hope than expectation.

They returned home with a surprise but extremely valuable victory.

An exciting first-half saw both teams come close to scoring, Kevin Edgar of Bootle and Chad Whyte of Burscough twice going near, but the scoreline remained blank at the interval.

Burscough started the second-half well, but it was Bootle that took the lead in the 57th minute, Daniel Murphy scoring at the far post after a corner.

The Linnets bounced back quickly. In the 62nd minute they won a corner on the left that was driven to the heart of the penalty area.

Whyte got his head on the end of it and scored from the edge of the six yard box.

The game became closely fought and both teams threatened to score.

14 minutes from the end Terry Cummings got free behind the Bootle defence and fired the ball into the net to give Burscough a 2-1 lead.

Bootle pressed and hit the woodwork on one occasion, but the Linnets bravely held on to capture three priceless points.

The victory takes Dave Sutton's team out of the relegation zone. Burscough have 41 points from 40 games.

Burscough have four away games left, 1874 Northwich on Thursday, May 3, Winsford United on Saturday, May 5 and Squires Gate away on Bank Holiday Monday, May 7, plus an away game at Ashton Athletic that has still to be arranged.

Ormskirk pay for poor start in eight wicket defeat to Formby

ORMSKIRK suffered a shock eight wicket defeat at Formby on Saturday.

The decision by the reigning Liverpol Competition premier Division champions to bat first looked misplaced from the start as Andy Baybutt edged a superb first ball of the match behind off Ben Aitchison.

And 0-1 soon became 25-5 as wickets tumbled at both ends.

Only Josh Bohannon 46, Ryan Maddock 17 and last man Josh Thompson 11 reached double figures, as miserly spells from Sabbir Patel 3-21, Ollie Sutton 2-12, Karl Brown 2-13 and Stephen Parry 2-15 helped dismiss Ormskirk for 94.

In reply, an unbeaten run a ball 48* from Formby skipper James Seward and an unbeaten 28* from Lancashire's Brown took the hosts to victory on 95-2.

Northern made it two wins out of two with a 125 run home win against Highfield, after electing to bat the hosts declared their innings on 187-9, thanks to runs from Chris Brownlow 35, Tom Jones 31 and Justin Snow 26, whilst Darshan Misal took 5-65. In reply, visiting skipper James Taylor top scored with 20 as his team were rolled over for just 66, with Tom Sephton 3-10 and Liam Grey 3-31 on form with the ball.

Bootle's home fixture against Leigh was thwarted by the weather, the hosts posted 167-7 dec, with Will Hale 49, Danny Davies 40 and Neil Williams 25 all scoring valuable runs, with Toby Bulcock taking 3-64. In reply, Leigh had reached 51-3 with Ross Zelem unbeaten on 24* when rain ended proceedings.

Burscough's batsmen halted in full swing after wet weather stops play

BURSCOUGH'S home Divison One fixture against Wigan was curtailed by the weather.

The visitors chose to bat and thanks to 55 from skipper Aaron Redmond and 46 from John Richardson were able to declare on 161-8, with Lee Berrie 5-50 and Jono Curtis 3-77 taking the wickets to fall. In reply, the hosts had reached 16-0 when play was ended by rain.

In the First Division, Southport & Birkdale got off to a winning start with a huge 109 run win at Prestatyn, S&B elected to bat and thanks to runs from Bradley Yates 43, Isaac Lea 42 and Harry May 37 were able to declare on 174-8, with Peter Cassidy taking 5-58. In reply, the hosts slipped from 43-0 to 65 all out, thanks to a superb spell of bowling from Andy Warhurst 6-14, Gary Keedy 2-7 and Angus Gailey 2-26.

Fleetwood Hesketh's match at Wavertree was another to fall foul of the weather, the visitors were asked to bat and after a good start slipped from 73-1 to 142 all out, with Neil Rimmer and skipper Scott Rimmer top scoring with 43 each, whilst Geeth Malinda hit 22. In reply, the hosts were 52-3 when rain ruined the day.

Skelmersdale's Division two match at Northop Hall was another ruined by the weather, the hosts put 178-7 dec up on the board, with James Hurlin 52, Michael Griffiths 46 and skipper Dave Kennedy 30* in good touch with the bat, whilst Matthew Fenney took 3-35 with the ball. In reply, the visitors had reached 54-3 when play was abandoned with skipper Liam Crilly unbeaten on 30*.

BAD NEWS FOR GOOD PEOPLE

THEY SAY...

'... When she dies, heaven will be the richer!'
'There's nothing he wouldn't do for you.'
'... He hasn't got a mean bone in his body.'
'... She's the salt of the earth.'
'.. He's a real pillar of society.'

WE ALL KNOW PEOPLE WHOSE UNSELFISH CHARACTER IS A REAL EXAMPLE TO US. SURELY SOMEONE LIKE THAT CAN BE CERTAIN OF A PLACE IN HEAVEN?

You would think so wouldn't you, but it doesn't work like that with God...

...no-one will be declared righteous in his sight by observing the law...

Romans 3:20

Even the best of us have fallen short of the standard He sets...

...all our righteous acts are like filthy rags...

Isaiah 64:6

...and with everlasting consequences...

...people are destined to die once, and after that to face judgement...

Hebrews 9:27

BUT IF GOD IS A GOD OF LOVE, WON'T HE OVERLOOK OUR FAULTS, ESPECIALLY IF THEY'RE NOT TOO SERIOUS?

Many of us go through life believing this to be the case. However, as He's also a God of justice, all wrong-doing must be punished.

That's why He sent His Son, Christ Jesus, to die on the Cross of Calvary... to take the punishment that we deserved...

...God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.

Romans 5:8

DOES THIS THEN MEAN THAT WE CAN ALL BE SURE OF HEAVEN?

Nowhere in the Bible does it say this. The Lord Jesus died and rose to life again that First Easter day to make it possible for us to have a right relationship with God the Father.

In our daily living even that which we'd consider the most minor weakness is 'sin' in God's sight, separating us from Him...

...Your iniquities (sins) have separated you from your God...

Isaiah 59:2

... And the Lord Jesus has become a 'bridge' which we must cross to have the relationship with our Maker put right.

BUT IS BELIEF IN THE EXISTENCE OF GOD NOT ENOUGH?

Well, no. Christ Jesus himself says...

I am the way and the truth and the life. No-one comes to the Father except through me.

John 14:6

It's through faith in Him and Him alone that we can find true peace, fulfilment, freedom and eternal security...

believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved...

Acts 16:31

SO WHAT'S THE CATCH?

There isn't a catch, but there is a cost. God has a plan for each of us. But first we must seek His forgiveness, asking the risen Christ Jesus, by His Spirit, into our lives to become our Saviour and Lord..

...To all who received him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God.

John 1:12

Then we must face up to the cost of becoming one of His true followers. This means turning away from all we know to be wrong and putting Him first in everything. He says...

Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me.

Luke 9:23

The thing is, once we begin to know Him we won't feel we have to... We'll want to!

BUT CAN'T WE BE 'PUT RIGHT' WITH GOD BY GIVING TO CHARITY AND HELPING OTHERS... BY GOING TO CHURCH, BEING BAPTISED OR BECOMING A MEMBER... EVEN JUST DOING OUR BEST?

These things in themselves are not the way to a right relationship with god - they're more likely to be consequences! Even the most upright of us can be facing an eternity... Merely 'hoping for the best'...

There is a way that appears to be right, but in the end it leads to death.

Proverbs 14:12

Therefore this message is BAD news for GOOD people... If we're trusting in our own merits and refusing to respond to God's 'good news'...

For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life.

John 3:16
